

Employee Assistance Program (EAP)

Wellesley College offers an EAP to benefits eligible employees and members of their households through AllOne Health Resources. Eligible employees are automatically enrolled in the EAP, and Wellesley pays the full cost of the program.

Services available through the EAP at no cost to you:

Confidential Counseling Services

Faculty, staff, their dependents, and household members are eligible to receive assessment, referral, and counseling services (up to 5 face-to-face sessions per issue).

Legal Assistance

This service provides one free 30-minute office or telephone consultation per legal matter. Typical matters include divorce and child custody, car accidents, contractual and consumer disputes, real estate concerns, landlord / tenant issues, and insurance disputes. (Employees can also receive a 25% discount for additional services provided by a network attorney.)

Financial Assistance

This service provides one free telephone consultation per financial issue. Typical financial issues include credit card debt, identity theft, financial planning, retirement consultation, college planning, and tax advice provided by a qualified financial counselor.

Information and Referral Service

This is a consultation and referral service that assists with a wide spectrum of work and life issues. Receive help in locating eldercare, childcare, and other services. A list of qualified referrals for these services is provided.

Work/Life Website

Get access to over 12,000 articles, videos, tip sheets, calculators, assessments and searchable provider directories. Topic areas include, child care, parenting, elder care, higher education planning, career development, health/wellness, emotional wellbeing, legal/financial resources, and pet care services.

To access the website, go to www.allonehealthcap.com and enter:

User name: Wellesley

Password: employee

For further information go to www.wellesley.edu/HR/ , then click on Work/Life>Employee Assistance Program.